Florida State University, designated a pre-eminent university in the state of Florida and the nation’s most efficient university, is one of the most respected research and learning institutions in the country. Named by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a leader in very high research activity – a designation given to only 73 public colleges and universities – Florida State is home to many nationally-ranked programs, including the sciences, arts, business, communication, and law.
At Florida State, you will find a rigorous academic environment within a community of internationally-recognized faculty who are award-winning artists, scientists, authors, teachers, designers, researchers, entrepreneurs, and performers from around the globe. From libraries to laboratories and classrooms, we offer a student-centered education that inspires the academically motivated, intellectually curious, and socially conscious student.

We are more than just a place where classes are taught and innovations are born. We are a place where you will be challenged to turn research into discovery, inspiration into opportunity, and ideas into action. Located in Florida’s capital city, we provide unmatched access to policy makers and leaders, who are enacting change and shaping the future. We invite you to be a part of it.
Commitment to Academic Excellence

- Learn more and do more in the Honors Program, where exceptional first-time students benefit from an enriched curriculum and experiential learning projects.

- Achieve more with the support of the staff from the Office of National Fellowships as they mentor you through the selection process for prestigious scholarships/fellowships. Since 2005, our students have won more than 140 nationally competitive awards, including three prestigious Rhodes, three Truman, seven Goldwater, and 18 Hollings scholarships; four Pickering fellowships; and 60 Fulbright grants.

- Learn from the best, including Nobel laureates, Pulitzer Prize winners, Guggenheim Fellows, members of the National Academy of Sciences and American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and more.

- Create noteworthy, collaborative research projects with help from the Office of Undergraduate Research.

- Expand your horizons by getting involved with the Center for Global Engagement, and look through a window to the world without ever leaving campus.

- Flex your mental muscles by joining a Freshman Interest Group where, with other like-minded freshmen, you’ll take core classes and explore the learning culture at FSU.

- Find your passion and declare your major by working with our award-winning academic advisers.

Our 16 colleges; state-of-the-art research laboratories; extraordinary dance and performance facilities; supportive, student-centered community; and more than 150 undergraduate majors provide you with an abundance of comprehensive, diverse, and intellectual opportunities.
The recent opening of the Honors, Scholars, & Fellows House (The House) demonstrates our commitment to recognizing, fostering, and rewarding academic excellence. Centrally located, The House brings together major programs such as Honors, the Office of Undergraduate Research, the Office of National Fellowships, and the Graduate Fellows Society to create an interactive community that supports the success of our highest achievers at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

- Study all night long at “Club Stroz” – Strozier Library puts seven floors of technology and educational resources at your fingertips 24 hours a day. You have access to group study rooms equipped with SMART boards and floor-to-ceiling white boards; individual study rooms; free laptop checkout, textbook rentals, and tutoring; and a 24-hour Starbucks (eat and drink anywhere you please!).

- Excel in the areas of leadership, internship, service, globalism, and research, and you too can be honored by the Garnet and Gold Scholar Society at graduation.

- Create positive change through the Center for Leadership and Social Change’s service-learning initiatives that will make you a better citizen, leader, and person.

Financial Assistance

Florida State offers admission to students on a “need-blind” basis. Your ability to pay has no bearing on our admission decision.

To apply for need-based aid, you must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), located at financialaid.fsu.edu. Although no award can be made until a student is offered admission, students and families are strongly encouraged to complete the FAFSA in early January.

Scholarships

Admitted students are automatically considered for merit-based scholarships, regardless of financial circumstances. A separate application is not required. Because scholarships are limited, students with strong academic records should apply to the University by our October 15 deadline.

For information on University scholarships, go to admissions.fsu.edu/freshman/finances/scholarships.cfm.
Refer to housing.fsu.edu/quicklinks/Residence-Hall-Rental-Rates for rental rates by residence hall.

Refer to campusdish.com/en-US/CSS/FloridaState for the various meal plan options and the associated costs.

FSU has a mandatory health insurance policy for new students admitted to the University. The costs represents the annual individual premium for domestic students. (The premium for international students is $2,009.) Costs of meeting this requirement will be included in financial aid considerations. Students who currently have health insurance may show proof of comparable coverage and may not be required to purchase the University policy. Refer to healthcenter.fsu.edu/insurance for additional information.

Choosing the right college is a big decision. And while brochures, websites, and virtual tours are great – there’s nothing like stepping foot onto Florida State’s campus to experience a dose of Seminole spirit. Our main campus is located in Tallahassee, Florida’s capital city, nestled among rolling hills and majestic oaks with beautiful salt and freshwater beaches nearby. The campus is the epitome of a prestigious university steeped in tradition with soaring brick towers, flowing fountains, and expansive greens. But it’s our warm, inviting atmosphere that makes us unique. You really have to experience it to believe it.

This is your invitation to come and explore Florida State University. By car, we are conveniently located off I-10, and, by plane, the Tallahassee Regional Airport is mere minutes away. You also have the option of flying into the Northwest Florida Beaches International Airport, located near Panama City, less than two hours away.

We hope you will visit soon!

Florida State has a branch campus in Panama City, Florida. To learn more, go to pc.fsu.edu.
